1. Background

(a) Ratan Tata Innovation Hub (RTIH), Amaravati Foundation, has been established as a state-level institutional platform to strengthen innovation, entrepreneurship, startup, MSME and enterprise support across Andhra Pradesh.

(b) RTIH operates through a Hub-and-Spoke network, with the Amaravati Hub and regional Spoke locations at Visakhapatnam, Rajahmundry, Vijayawada, Tirupati and Anantapur. These Spoke locations will serve as the initial district-centre anchor locations for the pilot.

(c) In alignment with RTIH's objective of supporting inclusive enterprise growth, the Nano Business Unit (NBU) initiative is intended to provide localised, practical and affordable business growth support to entrepreneurs and existing businesses.

(d) This RFP covers all entrepreneurs and businesses, including traditional businesses, MSMEs, local shops, service enterprises, manufacturing units, home-grown enterprises, women-led businesses, livelihood enterprises and operational startups.

(e) Many such businesses are already operational but face constraints such as limited digital adoption, weak market visibility, lack of structured growth strategy, gaps in compliance readiness, limited access to professional services, and difficulty in translating advice into actionable interventions.

(f) RTIH proposes to pilot the NBU model in ten (10) locations. The initial locations shall be district-centre locations starting with the five RTIH Spoke locations: Visakhapatnam, Rajahmundry, Vijayawada, Anantapur and Tirupati.
